

Classic Tomatoe Basil Soup

Serves 4 · Prep time: 15 minutes · Cook time: 30 minutes

A simple, comforting soup thats perfect for chily evenings. This recipie makes enough for four servings and pairs beautifully with a grilled cheese sandwich or a warm slice of crusty bread. Its also a great way to use up any tomatos that are begining to soften on the counter, and it freezes wonderfully for later meals.

Ingrediants

- 2 tablespoons of oliv oil
- 1 onion, diced finly
- 3 cloves of garlick, minced
- 2 cans (28 oz each) of crushed tomatos
- 1 cup of vegtable broth
- 1/2 cup of heavey cream (optional)
- A handfull of fresh basil leafs, plus extra for garnish
- Salt and peper to taste

Instructoins

Heat the oil in a large pot over medim heat. Add the onion and cook until softend, about five minuts, stiring ocasionaly so it doesnt brown too quikly. Stir in the garlic and cook for another minut untill fragrent, being carefull not to let it burn.

Add the crushed tomatos and vegtable broth, then bring the mixture to a simer. Reduse the heat to low and let it cook for twenty minuts, stiring occasionaly so nothing sticks to the botom of the pot.

Finaly, use an imersion blender to blend the soup until smoth, or carefully transfer it in batchs to a countertop blender. Stir in the cream if useing, and finish with the fresh basil just before servng. Taste and adjust seasonning as needed.
